1. The Austrian Minister in Belgrade, while on a recent visit to Vienna, brought with him proposals from the Yugoslavs for the recruitment of Austrian technical personnel to assist Yugoslav industry.

2. Although there are some 600 German engineers from the Eastern Zone at present working in Yugoslavia, more electrical and hydraulic engineers are needed. The Yugoslav government has intimated to the Austrians that assistance in obtaining the necessary personnel would be regarded as a friendly gesture. The German personnel are well paid and well treated and are promised eventual Yugoslav citizenship.
